

Breast cancer is the most common cancer and the leading cancer-related mortality worldwide including in Indonesia. As the main component of breast cancer treatment, practice of breast surgery has evolutionary changed over the last few decades. Surgeons are currently expected to adapt and enhance their knowledge and skills to provide safe and modern refined treatment of breast cancer. There is an increasing need including in Indonesia for oncoplastic procedures in breast surgery because immediate application of plastic surgery in breast cancer has provided a wider local excision while improving the ultimate breast shape and symmetry. The modern oncoplastic breast surgery has emphasized on the applications of both oncologic and plastic surgery principles to obtain wider tumor-free margins and aesthetically pleasing outcomes. To bring together the leading experts, practitioners, researchers, and surgeons to exchange and share their experiences on all aspects of breast oncoplasty and reconstruction, we will held general lecture and workshop in oncoplasty.

The Indonesian Diaspora Global Network Health (IDGNH) has been established as a result of the follow-up of the Congress for Indonesian Diaspora (CID1) on July 2012 in Los Angeles and CID2 August 2013 in Jakarta . IDGNH is a non-profit task-force organization that facilitates collaborative works with Indonesian partners to improve healthier living conditions for all Indonesians, irrespective of their age, gender, ethnicity, social status and religious background

Universitas Gadjah Mada in collaboration with Indonesia Diaspora Global Network Health (IDGNH) organize this upcoming meeting in University Club (UC) Universitas Gadjah Mada (UGM) Yogyakarta on August 25-26, 2017. This meeting will focus on the most recent innovations, trends, and practical challenges in the fields of oncoplasty and reconstructive breast surgery and their potential applications to improve breast cancer management in Indonesia
